

Okanagan Lake Continues To Rise, Creating Grave Situation In This Area

Okanagan Lake waters are still rising, although not so rapidly as in past weeks. However, a grave danger of septic tank overflow and lack of proper drainage in the Trout Creek and Crescent Beach areas, also in many places along the lakefront in lower town has created a hazard which has been stressed by public health authorities.

On Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Helen Zeman, public health director of the Okanagan Health Unit, Kelowna, paid a visit to Summerland and inspected conditions along the lakefront.

At Crescent Beach, most summer homes are surrounded by water. Many homes in the Trout Creek area are also in danger of being completely isolated by the seepage from ever-rising Okanagan lake.

Dr. Zeman has issued instructions to all home owners thus affected that septic tanks should not be operated.

Municipal authorities have co-operated by instituting a collection service for sewage only. Regular trips will be undertaken on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, commencing tomorrow, Friday, June 13.

Inoculation of all residents of Trout Creek and Crescent Beach is being sought by the medical health authorities. School children have already been given two shots against typhoid but pre-school children and adults are asked to gather at the elementary school tomorrow evening to be inoculated against this dread disease.

All swimming in Okanagan lake, in any proximity to populated areas is being forbidden by the health unit.

The swim classes, arranged annually by the board of trade, will probably have to be postponed until later in the summer, when lake waters recede.

Septic Tanks Endangered

As flood waters recede in other parts of the province, another danger arises in the Okanagan, caused by the steady rise of Okanagan lake.

This danger is not confined to the two main beach areas in Summerland, but exists to an even greater extent in Kelowna and Okanagan Mission, while flooding of low-lying lands is prevalent in some portions of Penticton.

With high water lying in pools over large areas in proximity of the lake, septic tanks are a danger to the health of the community, the health authorities point out, and their use should be discontinued wherever possible.

Residents of these areas are being asked to equip themselves with tightly-lidded containers to facilitate collection and disposal of sewage.

Residents in the lake flood areas are warned that drinking water should be boiled or, better still, that chlorine tablets should be used to sterilize the water. Persons obtaining their drinking water from the lake should use special caution, it is stated.

No swimming should be undertaken along the lake front in Summerland, Dr. Zeman warns, because of the bacteria content of the water. Parents are warned to keep the children out of the water.

Mel. Ducommun, head of the board of trade swim classes, stated yesterday he was afraid the swim classes would have to be cancelled entirely this summer, although if the situation is clarified in time, a modification of the usual program may be possible.

Owners of lakefront property in lower town and at Crescent Beach have been working for many days, sandbagging their shorelines and gardens in an effort to keep back the rising waters.

The road to Crescent Beach is only a few inches above the water line now and will have to be closed to traffic if the lake rises much farther.

Through traffic on Okanagan highway is still closed between Trout Creek and Evans' point, due to the huge clay slide which fell last week. B.C. government work crews have been operating on the slide for the past week and have blasted some of the danger points on the cliff overhead, but it will be some time before the highway can be cleared for traffic.

The municipal grader improved the condition of the Sand Hill road to some extent last Saturday, assisting motorists who have to use this road as a detour.

Menace of Mosquitoes

Menace of mosquitoes due to the high water is growing daily. The mosquito control association at Trout Creek, headed by Magnus Tait endeavored to bring in a helicopter this week to spray the breeding grounds, but the machine had to be taken to the coast. It will not be available for a week.

Mr. Tait explained to The Review that the time has gone by to treat the flooded areas with hand sprays, as the mosquitoes have now hatched, and are in the orchards and long grass. Only a DDT dust spray over a large area would serve to cope with the situation now, he believes.

Mr. Tait is keeping in touch with Okanagan Air Services in an endeavor to have the machine return to this area and carry out its experimental dust spray.

Okanagan Lake level reached 104.57 on Wednesday, which is said to be in excess of the previous high mark of 104.28, when the lake reached a high of 104.45 on June 8.

In other parts of the province, flood dangers are about over, but the danger of disease from the flooded areas is far from past. Parts of the Fraser Valley are being kept evacuated until health units are satisfied that it is safe for property owners to return to their homes.

Train Service to Coast

Train service was commenced from Vancouver last night over Kettle Valley Railway lines for the first time in three weeks.

No. 11, westbound, went through to Vancouver last night, while No. 12 left Vancouver and was due to pass through Summerland at 4:20 a.m. standard time this morning. It reached Summerland at 8:40 PDT this morning.

No. 45, westbound and No. 46 eastbound locals serving Vancouver to Penticton points only, are discontinued for the time being. Main line trains No. 2 and No. 1 are also cancelled but other main line transcontinental schedules commenced operating yesterday.

KVR officials report the only bridges still out are beyond Merritt on the Spences Bridge line and the connecting link to Copper Mountain.

Freight shipments from coast points are expected by the weekend, relieving a shortage in many essential items which threatened inconvenience, to some degree, interior residents.

Main items in short supply for the past two weeks have been citrus fruits and some vegetables, apart from gasoline. Some shipments of sugar from Raymond, Alta., relieved the situation here last weekend.

Gasoline was rationed from last Friday and is still in scarce supply, although by next week-end the situation should be eased. Only those who could prove an essential use for gasoline have been allowed permits to purchase the precious fluid in Okanagan points since last Friday.

Those desiring gasoline had to obtain permits from the B.C. Police before obtaining small supplies at gas pumps.

B.C. Police Constable Thorsteinson has stated that Summerland motorists took the rationing in a good spirit of co-operation and there was little unnecessary travel in the district.

Most valley traffic came to a standstill last weekend, and only a few cars were seen on the highway. This rationing also had a detrimental effect on retail business houses, who report one of the quietest weeks of the year.

CAMPBELL TRIP NOW POSTPONED

Sir Malcolm Campbell will not bring his jet-propelled Bluebird II speedboat to Okanagan lake this year, a statement issued from Kelowna by Board of Trade President T. Greenwood on Monday stated. Owing to B.C. flood conditions and the clump of transportation facilities, it was thought best to postpone the visit until next year. Curtailment of tourist travel and the prospect of not being able to draw sufficient visitors for the trials, combined with the flood and health conditions forced the decision.

Mr. W. G. Rempel, plant superintendent, announced this week that the name of the former co-

OFFICIAL ELECTION RETURNS RELEASED

Official election returns for Yale federal riding by-election held on May 31 have been released by Returning Officer C. H. Jackson, Kelowna. They show the following results:

A total vote of 28,435 was recorded, with 149 spoiled ballots. Total possible vote was 34,400.

Over Eight Inches Rain Are Recorded

Already this month, two inches of rainfall have been recorded and the total for the year is over eight inches, which makes 1948 just about the wettest spring on record.

Average annual rainfall and snowfall here over the past 32 years has been 10,507 inches.

Of this year's precipitation, only 1.17 inches are made up of snowfall.

Total for this year up to this morning is 8.21 inches, compared with 3.14 inches at the same time in 1947.

On Sunday, a sudden cloudburst carried with it a quantity of hail, but no damage is reported in this district. On Tuesday afternoon, another cloudburst threatened, and it has been raining intermittently ever since.

By month, precipitation has been as follows:

|                |             |
|----------------|-------------|
| January        | 0.33 inches |
| February       | 1.02 inches |
| March          | 0.48 inches |
| April          | 2.23 inches |
| May            | 1.82 inches |
| June (to date) | 2.23 inches |

April was the wettest month ever recorded here, the average being less than an inch.

Another Classroom Needed For Schools Next September; Increase In Bus Routes Another Difficulty

Need for further accommodation in the Summerland schools was one of the main items under discussion at the Monday evening meeting of the new School District No. 77 (Summerland).

Principals A. K. Macleod and S. A. MacDonald have reported anticipated increases in school enrollment next September, with the high school anticipating 155 registrations and the elementary school 534. The present elementary school net enrollment in 506.

Using all the rooms, including basement, and the United church hall, the elementary school could accommodate its expected enrollment, but the high school needs another classroom.

Use Extra Hall

In order to meet this need, it was suggested that the extra high school room be located in the elementary school, and that another hall in the town area be pressed into service. It was stated that the parish hall would be best suited for this purpose and the school principals were asked to make the necessary inquiries concerning this suggestion.

Four resignations from the high school have been received, including Miss I. Wilson, Miss D. E. Moore, Miss M. R. Huston and Mr. J. T. Smith. Three of these positions Continued on Page 4

Suggests Fruit Stands At Many Valley Points

Suggestions for new industries for Summerland at the board of trade meeting in the IOOF hall last Thursday, brought forth an idea emanating from Councillor F. E. Atkinson, that refreshment stands featuring fruits in season and taking one particular shape at all points, be instituted throughout the Okanagan.

Councillor Atkinson could not be present at the meeting but his idea was promoted by Mr. L. H. Hill.

Such a plan would follow similar ideas promoted in California, it was stated, where refreshment stands in the shape of oranges or lemons attract widespread attention.

The board was asked to consider promoting this plan on a business-like basis, employing disabled veterans or university students for three summer months.

If such an experimental stand could be started in Summerland, and proved successful, then the plan could be promoted in other sections of the Okanagan, probably with board of trade backing in each area.

Connected with this plan, it was suggested that school students could be posted at these refreshment stands and act as guides for tourists who wish to be shown the main points of interest in each centre.

Dog Nuisance Is Causing Many Complaints

Dogs are becoming a nuisance in Summerland district. Many complaints have been voiced to The Review concerning dogs which are roaming at large, without collars or licence tags.

On Monday, Principal S. A. MacDonald informed the school board concerning the dog menace on the school grounds. At one time, he had counted 16 dogs on the playground.

"No one has been bitten yet but I have been afraid of it happening," explained Mr. MacDonald.

The council is to be asked to take action on this subject, as it collects a dog licence from as many dog owners as see fit to obey the regulation. There has been no attempt this year on the part of municipal authorities to enforce this bylaw other than give a warning when the licence was due, it is stated.

LET GEORGE DO IT!

Once more George Dunsdon proved his shooting prowess at the rifle range on Sunday morning, scoring top honors with 95. He was chased closely by Ed Gould and Phil Dunsdon, both with 94s. A. R. Dunsdon scored 93, R. A. Fredrickson 92, H. Snider 85, F. W. and Jack Dunsdon 84, H. (Pop) Dunsdon 83, Bert Simpson 76.

OLD-TIME DANCE CLUB CONTRIBUTES TO MANY GROUPS

More than $400 has been earmarked for distribution from funds accumulated by the Old-Time Dance club, following the winding up of its extremely successful dance season at the Ellison hall last Friday night, June 11.

This energetic group has held a series of dances every two weeks since early last fall and, as has been the custom in the past two years, has decided to distribute its profits to organizations in this community.

Some of the contributions have already been received by the organizations selected, while others will receive their grants in the course of the next few days, Mr. W. S. "Scotty" Ritchie, one of the organizers of the club, states.

Prominent in this list of donations is $50 for B.C. Flood Emergency Relief.

Other groups receiving $50 donations each are the newly-formed Girl Guide association, the Conquer Cancer campaign, and Red Cross. The Salvation Army Red Shield drive is receiving $10 and the March of Dimes fund for crippled children was given $5. The local Teen Town was also granted $25 from the profits of the dances.

One of the most popular dances of the season was that provided by the Old-Time club with all proceeds being devoted to the Summerland hospital. From this effort, $175 was provided for hospital funds.

With this donation included, the club has provided $415 to local organizations and nation-wide drives.

Over $2,000 Is Given To Fund

At presstime, Mr. James Muirhead, treasurer of the B.C. Flood Emergency Fund, informed The Review that Summerland persons and organizations had subscribed a total of $1,788 for the relief of victims of flood-ravaged areas in the Fraser Valley and Kootenay areas, mainly.

It is known that a number of canvassers are still to be heard from and that contributions will go well over the $2,000 mark.

The fund, which commenced with a minimum objective of $1,000,000 is now approaching the million and a half dollar mark and every cent will be needed to assist in rehabilitating flood victims, officials state.

Automatic Dial Telephone System Projected Locally For Summer Of 1949

By mid-summer in 1949, the Okanagan Telephone Co. expects to make a start towards instituting an automatic, dial telephone system in Summerland, Mr. R. W. Ley, superintendent of this utilities system informed The Review on Wednesday afternoon.

Approval of the directors was obtained within the past week and engineers are now planning the new system for this community. It is estimated that cost of installing the dial system will be between $40,000 and $50,000 and will probably involve a greater sum when some auxiliary expenses are considered.

Within the next two weeks, the Okanagan Telephone Co. expects to know the probable delivery date of the system, which the directors hope will be here in time for the rush fruit season in the early fall of 1949.

Work is already well ahead towards providing a similar-type system for Westbank and Peachland, the company having made this announcement last year.

Baseball Is Disrupted by Rain and Flood

Rain and transportation tie-ups have played havoc with baseball schedules throughout the interior this spring.

Last Sunday, at the Living Memorial athletic park, Penticton Skaha Lake Cubs were playing to a four-all tie with Summerland Red Sox in the South Okanagan junior league when the rain descended in buckets and washed out the contest.

Allan Gould was the starting pitcher for Summerland and was being relieved in the fourth by Jack Dunham when the rains came. It was called no-game.

Last Friday, the Summerland Merchants' senior team was due to play Penticton in a Donkey Baseball game but the rain washed that contest out, as well. The Donkey baseball game scheduled for Summerland next Monday, June 21, has also been cancelled because of gas shortage and lack of transportation.

Next Sunday, Summerland Merchants travel to Kelowna for an interior league fixture, while the Summerland Red Sox entertain Penticton Pirates in a junior league game at the athletic park here.

Last Sunday, while the Merchants had a day off, Rutland defeated Vernon and Princeton walloped Kelowna Cubs. The result of the Kamloops-Hedley contest was not known here at presstime.

If Kamloops was victorious, then Summerland retains second spot in the interior league standing, otherwise, Kamloops and Summerland would be tied for top position with one loss each.

Spring Fair Has Profit of Over $650

Announcement by Len Hill that the annual Spring Fair will probably show a net profit of more than $650 was greeted with applause by the board of trade June meeting at the IOOF hall Thursday night. A complete statement was not forthcoming, Mr. Hill stated, as all expenses had not been tabulated. Mr. J. E. O'Mahony, board vice-president, who was chairman of the meeting, declared that the Spring Fair was a "wonderful show."

Special mention was made on Thursday by Mr. Hill of the co-operation given his committee by Mr. C. H. Wiley and his staff at the Occidental Fruit Co. Ltd., where the show was held.

Many Novel Events Feature Initial Field Day By Fish And Game Club

First Field Day ever staged by the Summerland Fish and Game Assn. is set for next Wednesday, June 28, at Powell Beach, Joe McLachlan, in charge of the affair, states today.

Many novel features have been included in the day's program which commences at 10 o'clock with retriever trials. Each dog will be given 25 points and the judges will deduct marks for each error committed. Two retrievers will be allowed, one on land and one from the water.

In the afternoon, besides a trap shoot, one of the big features will be the rowboat race, which starts from the CPR wharf at 3 o'clock. Each entry will consist of one rowboat, two occupants and one set of oars. Prizes are being awarded for the winning boat.

In connection with this race, the

One of the features of this announcement is that the telephone company directors believe they will have to dispose of the present building on Granville street.

This building is not suitable in size to install this new equipment and another site and building are proposed.

If this plan goes through, then the company will offer for sale the valuable corner property which houses the present exchange. This property has been looked upon for some time as a valuable site for retail business.

The company plans to erect a building suitable for the automatic system at the rear of the present exchange on Granville street.

Mr. Ley explains that the present telephone system operating here is a harmonic ring type which is not possible of attainment now. The new system will mean that users will have to adjust themselves to new tone modulations, which will probably cause some concern for the first month.

The new system will not give quite the privacy for party lines obtainable now, but the old-style equipment is not possible of attainment as it is not being manufactured anywhere.

However, there will be no more than four telephones to any line, Mr. Ley declares, two on "each side," so that the inconvenience of having someone pickup a party phone and hear a small portion of conversation will not be greatly inconvenient, he points out.

There will be no interference on the single phone connections.

Mr. Ley also states that the capacity of the local exchange will be more than doubled, as more than 350 lines will be installed. The present capacity, which is taxed to the utmost, is 180 lines.

As soon as the engineers' plans are available and a tentative date set for installation, the telephone crews will commence their work in the district installing new lines and improving facilities on existing lines, in readiness for the new dial setup.

Final Payment On Apple Crop

Today and tomorrow, the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. is mailing cheques to its grower members for a total of $102,000, being the final payment on the 1947 apple crop. This represents a substantial payment to all growers.

From last year's operations, only the rebates from B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and the Associated Growers, plus cull payments, are still to be received, Miss E. Bristol, co-op secretary, states.

Coming from Mission on Monday last to join the staff of Summerland hospital, was Miss Dorcen Hills, who is a graduate of St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver.

Summerland's New Band

SUMMERLAND has welcomed a new organization which will fill a valuable place in the life of the community.

We refer to the newly-formed Summerland band, which opened its career at the Summerland Spring Fair and the Empire Day inauguration of the Living Memorial Athletic park.

Penticton musicians have assisted Summerland in getting underway and the local artists are appreciative of this help.

A band provides a group which citizens can look upon with pride, especially if the artists are blended together in such a manner that the results of their efforts are pleasing.

Summerland's new band played together like veterans on the first appearance and they received many well-earned plaudits for their enterprise. A band of 35 pieces, at least, is the goal of this organization and if successful Summerland can continue to take pride in its musical artists.

Young people will also be given an opportunity to fit into this band and another cultural forward step will result.

There is no reason why this goal cannot be achieved, with hard work and plenty of encouragement. The band's task will be lightened in ratio to the support it receives from the community.

Opposition To Parking Bylaw

THERE WAS NO denying the opinion of practically everyone attending last Thursday's board of trade session that they opposed and strongly too, the council's one-hour parking bylaw.

There are not many occasions when the board differs so strongly from the council viewpoint, but there was no doubt in anyone's mind at last Thursday's meeting that the council has aroused the indignation of one portion of the community, at least.

The Review feels that the main point in this issue was missed in Thursday's discussion. And that is the point of how this regulation is to be enforced.

We have in Summerland one police constable who, besides his ordinary run of clerical duties, must police Summerland, Peachland and a good deal of surrounding rural, unorganized area. He has little time to cover this big district now, without calling upon him to enforce a one-hour parking bylaw for two streets in West Summerland.

If the local merchants and their clerks would co-operate by leaving their vehicles off these two main business streets during the busy shopping hours, and if the council would repair and renovate the lanes behind these two streets and legislate to keep trucks off the main thoroughfares, then there would be no need for a one-hour parking bylaw.

Summerland is growing up fast and is a busy little commercial centre, but it has not progressed to the point where one-hour parking is essential.

Detriment To New Industries

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S government is worried. At least, that is the assumption we gain from the flood of government-originated pamphlets which were distributed through the mails at the first of the week, explaining the functioning of the proposed sales tax and endeavoring to win back the many friends the coalition lost when they insisted on shoving through the legislature an act which they knew would be very unpopular with the voters.

Yale riding went CCF. Vancouver Centre went CCF. And now the government is facing a by-election in South Okanagan, probably in October. The coalition cannot afford to lose South Okanagan to the CCF and is endeavoring to explain away its unpopular sales tax to the people.

British Columbia is proud of its social assistance and British Columbians know that they must pay for this high standard. And they also know that the government had to find additional revenue to meet the ever-rising cost of government.

But to our way of thinking, the sales tax was not the answer. A nuisance tax which will be difficult to collect, which will impose a hardship on those operating businesses, is not our idea of sane legislation.

It would have been far better for the B.C. government to have gone to Ottawa and demanded a re-opening of the deal between the B.C. and federal governments which at this time only brings in to this province $23,000,000 from the income tax and corporation tax fields.

Ottawa reaps a harvest of more than $140,

000,000 from this province and hands back only a small proportion.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King should have been forced by Premier Johnson to alter the deal for B.C. and provide this province with a sufficient proportion of the federal haul so that a sales tax would not have been necessary.

One other point which we find rather hard to digest is the government statement that "... big business will pay the greater share of the social security tax. It is the little fellow who will get the big benefit."

We are certainly in accord with the "little fellow" getting as big a benefit as possible, but why business should be hampered by this nuisance tax is rather hard to understand.

The B.C. government has been spending thousands on promotion work to bring new industries to this province. And B.C., despite her adverse freight rate, has become fairly attractive to many American and eastern Canadian industries who have established main plants or branch plants.

British Columbia needs bigger payrolls and more industries, and yet we have the anomaly of the B.C. government practically boasting that "an industry establishing itself in this province with a $20,000,000 investment in its plant—and there are such industries now in course of erection—will have to pay through this tax as much as $600,000 for establishment equipment."

Certainly the government is not offering much inducement to industries from other parts of the country or other lands when it makes such statements.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

When I dropped in to the fruit and vegetable processing laboratory I found another school in progress. This time it was a mould count school, the instructors being Marlon A. Hoy and Peggy Burton. Marlon Hoy is from the research division of the American Can Company at Maywood, Illinois.

The students attending the school included Mrs. Sophie Kronbauer of Bulmans Ltd., Vernon; Gretchen Mathers, Westminster Cannery Ltd., New Westminster; Frank Skelly and David Thompson of the Skelly Tomato Packing Co., Kamloops; Bob Kelly and Fred Coe of the Rowell Canning Co., Ltd., Kelowna, and Paul Walrod of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., Kelowna.

The purpose of the school is to train operators in the detection of mould filaments in tomato products. This involves careful work with a high powered microscope, as it is quite difficult to distinguish between mould filaments and healthy tomato filaments.

Of course the sterilization process to which tomato products are subjected kills any moulds present in the product. However, the presence of mould filaments is an indicator of the degree of cleanliness practiced in the factory. For this reason Canadian standards require a low mould count and any products in which the content of mould filaments exceeds the tolerance are placed under detention and kept off the market.

Dominion inspectors collect samples of tomato products at frequent intervals from the factories while processing operations are in progress. These samples are sent to the Summerland fruit and vegetable processing laboratory where the content of mould filaments is checked by experienced operators. However, even when this work is done as rapidly as possible, it is usually several days before the processor learns the results of the test. It is obviously desirable that there be in each factory at least two operators trained in making mould counts, so that whenever a product shows a high mould count steps can be taken immediately to ascertain the cause of the trouble and institute remedial measures. This may be failure of the sorters and cutters to remove rots from the fresh tomatoes before they are processed. High mould counts may also be due to contaminated pipe lines or dirty equipment.

This is the third year that a mould count school has been conducted at the Summerland station. In past years a great improvement has been noted in the quality of tomato products processed by those factories sending representatives to the school.

KEEP OFF THIS 'HIT' PARADE

Penny Wise

My hope for the week: that too many of you haven't lost too much in this dreadful flood, and that those of you who have suffered may find yourselves back on a firm footing before too long.

Of this you may be sure, that we city dwellers are as full of sympathy for you as we were for our British friends who "lost all" during the Blitz. We're also doing what we can to help set things right, though at first glance it may seem that it's a losing race with Old Man River.

Take your shoes and stockings off some sunny aft., and walk barefoot on the lawn. There's no more satisfying footing for your tootsies, I think.

I trust you've the kind of family who doesn't look upon salad as "rabbit's food." A man who insists on hot meat and vegetables every single day in the week should be made to stand and cook it. Just one! He'd soon settle for lettuce, tomatoes, grated carrots and cabbage, onions, and all the goodies that go into a salad.

Whatever else you do this summer, wear lots of white. I know it needs washing time after time, but it looks so cool, makes you look cool, makes you look clean too, and gives your tan a boost in the right direction. A huge white pique collar on a colored dress will do the trick.

Try to have some flowers in the house: all the time, now that there are so many out in the gardens. A friend of mine even got a good effect with a low black bowlful of dandelions! They didn't last very long though. I've often put big purple clovers in a vase, and had them admired by people who think orchids are tops in the floral world.

While rhubarb's still plentiful and cheap, make a batch of preserve that you'll love to open in the winter months that are bound to come. A can of crushed pineapple put into it helps no end, likewise a few broken walnuts.

Put a card table out on the lawn some of these balmy evenings, and have dinner al fresco. The few nosey flies won't bother you too much, and it'll be as good as a picnic—sans sand, badly aimed beach balls, and juicy butter.

The Giant of Giant's Head

By B. A. T.

VIII—The Fairies to the Rescue
Would you like to see a fairy planting flowers on the range? Then you must arise at daybreak. Try it sometime—for a change.

The year following the marriage of Kate and the Giant was forever known as the "Utopian Year" in giant historical records. All was peace and harmony in the realm. No war or famine disturbed the even current of life. Even the Opopogos basked in placid contentment.

And then it happened. One day the Giant's wife had given him the task of painting the ceiling of their cave. From the top of a tall ladder the Giant was reaching to clear away a cobweb when he slipped and crashed to the floor many feet below. When picked up he was found to be suffering from shock and a broken leg.

All the Giant's subjects were stunned when they heard of the accident for the king was beloved by all. A hush fell over the land as all waited hopefully for an early recovery.

But fever laid its hands on the Giant's huge body and he wasted to a skeleton. His leg refused to heal and it was feared he would die with no son to succeed him. There were no doctors among the giants but the King's magician had the greatest knowledge of herbs, salves and love potions. But, looking at the invalid, the magician wept, for he knew of no remedy for such a condition. There remained only one hope—to call on the fairies of Okanagan Falls for help.

The fairies lived in a high waterfall and were ruled by a queen.

There was little contact between the giants and fairies for it can be said that the rule of the Giant did not extend over these "little people."

The fairies were beautiful creatures that did many things to make the world more pleasant. In spring they planted the buttercups, rock roses and other flowers that dotted the landscape. In autumn they painted the leaves in beautiful yellow or orange tints. They taught the birds to sing, the sunbeams to dance and many other acts of goodwill could be credited to their account.

In special cases the fairies would nurse the giant sick. Their methods were very effective for they had a wonder drug made from a mould base which worked amazing cure in case of blood infection.

As the illness of the Giant became more critical, a messenger was sent to the Falls to beg for help. As the Fairy Queen knew and respected our Giant, she recalled two fairies that were planting bluebells and sent them to treat the sufferer.

Although the fairies had many modes of travel, the one they liked best was by means of their P-38s as they called them. They had a flock of 38 trained pelicans and when they wished to make a journey, they would summon a pelican, step into his back, and be swiftly carried to any desired destination.

The fairy nurses flew to the cave in the Head, shooed Mrs. Giant out of the sick-room and took charge of the patient. Due to their efficient treatment and the

GUIDE NEWS

The regular weekly meeting of the Girl Guides was held on Friday, June 11.

We opened with the inspection of each patrol. After the marking of the attendance and collecting of fees we divided into groups for bedmaking, first aid, semaphore and knots.

After we had campfire, at which it was decided that eleven girls would go to Mrs. Blagburn's home and eleven to Mrs. MacIntosh's, we sang and learned songs.

We closed the meeting with Guide prayer and taps.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, June 17 at 7:30 p.m., three girls to be enrolled. Please look on school notice board for notices.

Use of their secret medicine, the Giant was soon well enough to sit at the door of his cave and enjoy the sunshine.

Now that the recovery of the Giant was assured there was great rejoicing in Giantland. Bonfires were lighted on the hills by the giants to show their relief that the menacing spectre of death had been put to flight.

When the two fairies stepped into their Pelican-38s to return home, the Giant gave them this message: "Tell your Queen that my people and I are grateful. Tell her that if the Dragons of Rook Creek ever threaten her again, every giant and every war-club in my kingdom is freely at her disposal."

Full Hospital Services Will Be Covered By Plan

The government has purchased the Canadian Legion building on Burrard Street, Vancouver, for $113,000 as headquarters for the compulsory, contributory hospitalization scheme which comes into effect early next year, it is announced by Hon. George S. Pearson, minister of health and welfare this week.

Also announced by Mr. Pearson were the following appointments: A. W. E. Pitkethley, chief accountant in the department of public works, executive director under Dr. J. M. Hershey, commissioner; Y. J. Lyle, assistant to Mr. Pit-kethley; Ken Wiper, provincial registrar of voters in Victoria, to take charge of registrations and collections; Renny Englebert, free lance executive assistant to Dr. Hershey.

That the hospitalization scheme will cover full necessary hospital services on a public ward level, operating room, X-ray and special diagnostic services that are usually provided as part of hospitalization, and that old age pensioners and others receiving social allowances will have their premiums paid by the welfare department, was also announced by the Minister.

Premier Byron Johnson and Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson this week stated that mothers' allowances and social allowances will be increased by approximately 15% on July 1. The maximum amount paid to a single person will be increased from $30 to $35 a month, for man and wife or parent and one child from $3.50 to $5.00, for a family of five from $65 to $75.50 and the maximum payment from $75.50 to $84.

Gladioli Will Feature Float For Festival

E. H. Bennett's gladioli, famous throughout Canada, will feature the Summerland Board of Trade float in the big Penticton and District Peach Festival parade, the board was informed on Thursday evening.

Mr. Roy Wellwood, chairman of the tourist and publicity committee, is in charge of this endeavor. It was suggested at the meeting that the Spring Fair queen and her attendants be grouped on this float.

Mr. Wellwood also reported that he wishes any persons planning a holiday trip to take with them tourist folders of Summerland and the Okanagan and distribute them on their travels. Mr. Wellwood had a quantity of such brochures for distribution.

Progress on the sign projected for the CPR station was reported by the tourist committee chairman.

SCOUT NEWS

The last two Scout meetings have suffered in attendance owing to stiff arms from typhoid inoculations, but it is hoped that by this Friday most of the boys will have toughened up enough so that the third shot won't bother them. Even with reduced attendance the last two meetings have been good for instruction of small groups in first aid and signalling.

Those boys who wish to pass first aid on Friday bring your own triangular bandage 36 x 40 inches.

At last meeting P/L Lewis was presented with his first class badge. Secretary Blacklock received his artist's badge and P/L Rempel his church and life badge. P/L Rempel hopes to have passed his first class badge by Friday. Darwin Harbicht passed his tenderfoot tests and will be invested on Friday. Robson was admitted as a recruit to the Beaver patrol.

Two recruits are needed for the troop at this time to fill out the troop strength before camp.

Point scores now stand at Beavers 1058, Hawks 1048, Buffaloes 862 and Eagles 837. The Sharmen cup will change hands at Friday's meeting.

Notices: A full attendance is requested for Friday, June 18, meeting to discuss plans for camp which will probably be held the first week of July. Duty patrol, Buffaloes.

Over 80 members of the association gathered on Sunday from points between Penticton and Notch Hill. C. C. Barker, of Salmon Arm, was chairman. Officers elected for 1948 were: president, W. T. Fleet, Penticton; first vice-president, Eric Waldron, Kelowna; second vice-president, M. V. Maguire, Coldstream; secretary-treasurer, T. N. Midgley, Penticton; district representatives: Armstrong and north, Reg Sewell and C. C. Barker; Vernon and district, R. W. Hodgson and G. Hill; Kelowna and district, A. Crawford and J. I. Monteith; Penticton and south, Peter Adams and Warrock Arnott.

The association adopted as an official beret one in black, with a patch of French gray and the badge of the B.C. Horse, or the B.C. Dragoons. A memorial service was held at the Salmon Arm cenotaph and business sessions were conducted in the afternoon and evening. The next re-union of the Interior Whizzbangs will be held during the first week of June, 1949, at Penticton.

New Bus Runs

Increased bus accommodation will be needed next term, and application to the provincial department of education is to be made for a new bus contract with White & Thornthwaite which would allow that firm to purchase a new 55-pupil bus in place of the one smaller bus now in use.

Expected bus pickups next fall were outlined by Mr. MacDonald, as follows: Trout Creek, 80; Lower Town, Peach Orchard and Hospital hill 100; these two districts would mean two trips each for the two White & Thornthwaite buses.

Garnet Valley and Jones Flat, 50; Prairie Valley, 69; Station road and Giant's Head, 67; Smith & Henry's large bus would make its first trip to the top of Prairie Valley and the second trip would pick up the balance of that route, plus a complete pickup of Station road and Giant's Head; the smaller Smith & Henry bus would pick-up Garnet Valley pupils and then make a second trip to pickup the Jones Flat children.

It was considered that the Garnet Valley route would have to be extended so that the bus would make a pickup at the fork in the road leading off to the rifle range. The municipal council will be asked that the bus can turn around, to widen the road at this point.

Grade 13 Pupils

Another transportation problem will be that of the Grade 13 pupils to Penticton; if District 15 can accommodate the five prospective students next September. Tuition fee of approximately $110 will probably be charged and transportation costs about $1,400, of which the local district board pays about $560.

No decision as to whether the tuition fee would be charged back to the pupils was made on Monday.

Nine applications for the position of secretary-treasurer were narrowed down to three, who were requested to meet at the school yesterday afternoon to be interviewed by the board's auditor.

Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh was appointed the board's representative on the Okanagan Valley Health Unit and the Okanagan Union Library boards.

Warns About
Communism In This Country

Dr. D. V. Fisher, well-known member of the experimental station staff, took time off from his close study of fruit research to give board of trade members a review of Igor Gouzenko's well-known book, "This Was My Choice", at the board monthly meeting last Thursday evening.

In reviewing this book's contents, Dr. Fisher gave the writer's word picture of conditions as he knew them in Russia.

"The Russian people are brought up to spy on everybody, even on members of their own families," explained Dr. Fisher. "Their whole training is unethical according to the Christian world as we know it."

Food is a weapon in Russia, he continued, as Russians believe that by withholding food they can bring the people into submission. Housing conditions were described, "extra fine living quarters" according to Russian standards being equivalent to the worst slums in this country.

Secret Police

The secret police, NKVD, permeate every phase of Russian national life, and members are even heads of labor unions, Dr. Fisher continued, giving one instance where three workers in an automobile factory struck and all employees were executed as an example.

Jews are as unwelcome in Russia as they were in Germany, but the Russians try to hide this fact

JURY VERDICTS IN
MUTCH DEATHS

This morning, a coroner's inquest, under the charge of Coroner F. W. Andrew, Summerland, returned a verdict that Mrs. Nora J. Mutch and her two sons, Robert and Grant, of Kaleden, came to their death by violence that was caused by Robert Douglas Mutch, their husband and father, while he was in a state of great mental instability.

On June 14, an inquest in to the death of R. D. Mutch decided that death was due to drowning in Skaha lake near Kaleden, circumstantial evidence leading the jury to believe death to be suicidal while deceased was in a state of emotional distress.

from the rest of the world, he claimed.

Dissolution of the Comintern was a mere ruse, quoted Dr. Fisher from Gouzenko's book, as the foreign embassies took over where the Comintern left off.

For a time, the propaganda fed the Russians about the western world was given consideration by the speaker. Russians were told of the horrible conditions of slavery, of the deplorable conditions of jails and dungeons in America, and of workers dying at their jobs to mass produce for the capitalists.

Dr. Fisher considered that people in Canada have a duty to perform in telling the truth about Russian propaganda. He deplored the advent of Russian thought in this country and declared that the Labor Progressive Party is not just another Canadian political party but the official organization for Communist Russia.

"The loyalties of the LPP are to Russia and not to Canada," he emphasized in conclusion, stressing that most LPP leaders have been through the schools for sabotage in Russia and are endeavoring to stir up strife and anarchy in Canada.

Plenty of Fun and Games
As W.I. Plays Hostess

It was not without some feeling of hesitancy that Summerland's W.I. undertook to invite "new citizens" to a get-together. There is always the feeling among the well settled and well acquainted that they may be infringing upon the strangers' privacy—"It isn't that you and I are unfriendly, but perhaps she doesn't want to be"—in effect. Nevertheless the W.I. members rallied at the Parish hall and to a woman they felt the effort well justified by the time the big affair drew to its close on Tuesday evening.

The attendance was better than even the most optimistic had forecast. In spite of the weather man, seventy ladies—27 of them guests of the Institute—packed into the Parish hall to play games and enjoy a social evening.

One bona-fide non-native newcomer to this district present on Tuesday was Mrs. Elizabeth Blunt. Elizabeth is a Dutch girl from Nymegen, who left five older sisters and four older brothers behind her when she came to Canada as Ernie Blunt's bride two years ago. The baby of that large family, and having little English as yet, this very pretty young blonde girl has been homesick. Because the CPR moves its dispatchers hither and yon with great abandon during their first years with the company, Elizabeth has already lived all over B.C. without ever having had a chance to put down any roots. Aside from the natural homesickness, she thinks B.C. is wonderful—but, and take it to heart, you old timers, Summerland isn't as friendly as have been some other places, she declares.

For this night, however, Summerland's women were out to show how friendly they could be, and all about uttering plaintive "tweets, tweets", everyone thought the house was coming down. The quip that very nearly did bring the roof down, however, was the charade containing the Goldilocks story. When Mrs. R. C. Palmer with all the innocence extant, queried whether the baby bear's chair had a hole in it, the very rafters shook.

Guests of the Institute at this first and very successful get-acquainted party were: Mesdames C. B. Hankins, R. Biech, Frank Young, J. Slater, E. Blunt, James Mitchell, E. Martin, J. Smith, Emily Fetterer, E. Walker, W. Milne, M. A. Metropolit, Betty Fisher, Alec Graff, Ivy Mason, G. A. Fisher, Sedlar, Hooker, Barbour, Christie, Adams, Beech and Reinertson.

Dr. C. G. Woodbridge
Returns With Bride

Dr. C. G. Woodbridge of the division of chemistry, science service, returned to Summerland on Monday after spending two years at State College in Pullman, Wash., where he recently received the degree of Ph. D. in chemistry. He will be associated here with Dr. H. R. McLarty.

Dr. Woodbridge brought with him his bride of two weeks, who was until their May 21 wedding, Miss Marian C. Satterlund of Bellevue, Montana. The former Miss Satterlund has also been a student at State College, and this year received her degree as Master of Science in chemistry.

St. Andrew's Women's Federation is holding its regular monthly meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Arranging of Decorative Bouquets is Told to W.I.

If one is really stuck for a decorative bouquet for the dining room table—and if your fingers are as deft as Mrs. E. H. Bennett's—just pick a bunch of vegetables, arrange them in a decorative bowl, and there you are.

It is a good trick if you can do it, and Mrs. Bennett showed members of the Women's Institute how it is accomplished on Friday afternoon, June 11. She didn't confine herself to the chives and asparagus, however, but also showed the ladies how to arrange beautifully and tastefully a wide variety of lovely blooms, from the tiny violas to the majestic peonies.

It was a well attended and lively meeting, with 50 members and visitors turning out to hear a widely varied assortment of reports, chief of which was Mrs. Gordon Ritchie's report of her three days as Summerland's delegate to the W.I. biennial convention at Vancouver. Mrs. Ritchie wasted none of her hours as delegate, bringing back a full and enthusiastic report of business done and targets set up for W.I.'s future work throughout the province.

The meeting was pleased to learn that their resolution submitted on behalf of Canada's senior citizens had been adopted into the B.C. convention agenda, but the big news was the winning of an award for the better farm homes entry submitted by this Institute.

Saying: "I was really sorry that the ladies who had worked so hard on the competition had not been there, but I was really very proud indeed to bring back to Summerland the honorable mention award, a cheque for $25.00," Mrs. Ritchie handed the cheque over to Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh as guiding genius of the effort.

Mrs. Vanderburgh promptly handed it over to Mrs. J. J. Blewett, whose accompanying house plan had contributed so greatly to the submission; and Mrs. Blewett, in her turn, just as promptly handed the award back to Mrs. E. M. Collas as part of Summerland Women's Institute's contribution to the Flood Emergency fund.

When Miss Marion Cartwright rose to move a vote of thanks to Mrs. Ritchie for her excellent report, she stressed the thought that it was a fine thing for the Institute to have had a new member as delegate. "As a past delegate of several sessions," she said, "I know what a lift of enthusiasm one gets from these conventions; and I am glad we had a delegate who was so well able to give to us all that feeling of enthusiasm."

... were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Towgood of Oyama who spent a long weekend with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Towgood.

... this coming weekend, will be Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Lochhead of Ottawa. Dr. Lochhead, who is head of the bacteriology department at the Capitol, will arrive on Saturday to pay a visit to the bacteriological division of the fruit and vegetable products laboratory at the experimental station, where he will discuss work that is being conducted there, especially on tomato products. He and Mrs. Lochhead will leave on Monday for Kamloops before going on to Ottawa.

At the motion of Mrs. A. K. Macleod, who made an excellent impromptu appeal on behalf of flood victims, it was decided to add another $25.00 to the award cheque, making the Institute's contribution one of $50. In addition to this donation, the Institutes throughout the province that were unharmed by the flood conditions are to be asked to contribute toward building up again those Institutes which have lost equipment and suffered property damage.

Council's One-Hour Parking Bylaw Given Rough Ride By Trade Board

Summerland council's proposed one-hour parking bylaw for Granville and Hastings streets met with a decided negative vote at the Summerland Board of Trade monthly meeting in the IOOF hall on Thursday evening.

Not a voice spoke in favor of the bylaw, which would limit parking to one hour on these streets from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekly shopping days. One board member supported the proposal and the other fifty members present voted against the bylaw.

Speakers against the proposal were emphatic in their condemnation of the council's bylaw.

George Graham stated that the Summerland Retail Merchants Assn. feels the one-hour parking is not long enough, as when people come to town to do business they want a longer period for parking purposes.

George Perry labelled the bylaw as "ridiculous", declaring that the only parking congestion occurs on Saturday nights and the bylaw would not cover this period. With one-hour parking, Summerland would look like a ghost town, he thought.

Roy Angus thought the bylaw "a joke". He had never seen the time when he had had to walk more than three-quarters of a block from his car to the place of business he sought.

T. B. Young placed the blame for any lack of parking space on the merchants. If they would not park their cars all day on the main streets then there would be no parking problem, he considered.

Walter M. Wright, who had introduced the subject at the May board meeting, considered that this legislation could have been avoided. He felt it would stir up discord between the merchants and their customers.

"The best advertisement for Summerland is a well-filled business section," Mr. Wright considered.

At this juncture, Mr. Perry moved that the municipal council be informed the board of trade is not in favor of the proposed parking bylaw. Mr. Mel Ducommun seconded the motion and it was passed with only one contrary vote.

FLOOD RELIEF

Summerland Board of Trade has donated $25 to the B.C. Flood Emergency Fund. A similar amount was voted by the Summerland Branch No. 22, Canadian Legion, at its meeting on Wednesday night of last week.

CNR APPLICATION GIVEN APPROVAL

Provided that local hauling firms are utilized to handle pickup and delivery service within the municipality, the Summerland Board of Trade has approved the Canadian National Railways application to the motor transport board for permission to operate trucks for freight originating in Vancouver and other coast points.

This approval was given by the local board to the Canadian Pacific Railway when it sought a franchise to operate in the Okanagan.

The White Transport Co., CNR subsidiary, would move the freight south from Kamloops, if the application is approved.

SUMMER RECESS FOR TRADE BOARD

Summerland Board of Trade is recessing for the summer months and no regular monthly meetings will be held in July and August. The June meeting at the IOOF hall on Thursday night decided. The executive has been empowered to transact board business in the recess period.

Price Mention On Radio Given Trial

For a six months' trial period, commencing September 1, price mention will be allowed over Canadian radio stations, the board of governors of the CBC decided recently. If it is found that price mention is lowering the standard of Canadian radio, then it will be discontinued at the end of the trial period, the local board of trade has been informed.

At the May meeting of the board, a negative vote was recorded on this subject.

Future Of Old Wharf Cause Of Agitation

Condition of the old government wharf in lower town is causing the Summerland Board of Trade some anguish. The wharf planking, tops of the piles, and the stringers are in a rotten condition, and are unsafe for any traffic, the board was told on Thursday evening at the IOOF hall.

Mr. E. R. Butler, who heads a committee of investigation for the board, stated that his group has considered burning the top part of the wharf and then using dynamite for the pile removal.

However, this is an expensive proposition and Mr. George Perry declared that it would cost about $400 to dynamite the 700 piles involved in this wharf.

It was decided to seek legal advice as to the board's responsibility in this matter. The wharf is alleged to have been sold to the old canoe club for one dollar and later it was turned over to the board for the same amount.

This wharf has been a great asset for swimmers and divers in the lower town area and will be greatly missed. However, the board committee declares that the wharf has outlived its usefulness and now presents a grave menace to safety of any persons who use it. Large holes in the top planking render travel unsafe.

Easy Way to Redeem Your War Savings Certificates

B. OF M. SERVICE HELPS YOU AVOID BOTHER, SAVE MONEY

Many Canadians have found a simple way to cash their War Savings Certificates—they just deposit them with the Bank of Montreal. As each Certificate falls due, the B of M has it cashed and credited to their account—automatically. The service costs very little.

This method saves folks the chore of sorting Certificates every month, endorsing and mailing each one to Ottawa when it falls due, and then cashing or depositing the cheque for it.

Many people find this new B of M service a real help in saving for something worth while, points out J. Muirhead, local manager. Since the proceeds of their Certificates go straight into their savings accounts, they're less inclined to spend the money than if it passed through their hands first.

Make a point of putting your Certificates into B of M safe-keeping tomorrow. It's a safeguard for your plans for the future and a step you won't regret.—Advt.

Trees are a crop

Just like peas, or potatoes, or peaches, or pumpkins, trees are a product of the soil. Fortunately, they do not demand a rich soil but grow well on low-quality sites unsuitable for agriculture. ## Two Week Army Camp At Vernon July 4 To 18

VERNON—Vernon will return to its once-familiar routine of an army centre for the two-week period from July 4 to 18 as some 400 men from the reserve army inhabit the military camp on Mission Hill for their annual summer training routine. Men from four main B.C. reserve units and from other smaller units will be stationed in the huts used during the Exposition.

At the same time, some 25 soldiers of all ranks from the local "A" Squadron, 9th Recce. Regt. B.C. Dragoons, will entrain with members of "B" Squadron, from Kelowna, and "C" Squadron, from Penticton, for the armored corps camp to be held at Wainwright, Alta.

Many famous army units will be represented at the camp in Vernon: The Seaforth Highlanders, from Vancouver; the Canadian Scottish Regiment, from Victoria; the Rocky Mountain Rangers from Kamloops, and the Westminster Regiment, from New Westminster. Various smaller units will also send men for the summer training: the RCME, the RCASC and RCAMC, the RC Dental Corps and the Canadian Provost Corps.

The Commanding officer probably will be one of the reserve unit C.O.'s. He has not been named as yet.

The BCD's will camp with all armored units from Western Command at Wainwright during the same two week period. Col. D. F. B. Kinloch will command the unit going to this camp. The only other reserve army unit from B.C. going to the Alberta training ground is the 12th Armored, DC-OR's from Vancouver. Alberta and Saskatchewan units will comprise most of the strength.

The armored training will be directed by men from the Lord

Canadian Achievements Lauded By Rotary Speaker In Describing How Northwest Staging Route Developed

Stressing that Canada and Canadians can do their part in major construction work as well as anybody else, H. J. Wells, formerly employed by the department of transport, and now a Summerland fruit grower, gave members of the Rotary Club of Summerland a word picture of Canada's part in construction of the northwest staging route, at the club's Friday supper meeting at the Nu-Way Annex.

Mr. Wells declared that Canada is reluctant to tell even her own people of her achievements and described some of the difficulties which were surmounted by Canadians in building airports into the north country.

In 1940, Canada decided that air strips must be constructed from Edmonton north, Grand Prairie, Fort St. John, Fort Nelson, Watson Lake and Whitehorse.

Winter Highway
The only means of taking supplies and equipment in to Fort Nelson was by the McKenzie and Nelson rivers, or by small planes landing on the river. From Fort St. John to Fort Nelson, a winter highway 360 miles long, was constructed and a year's supply of equipment rushed over the frozen surface in one month.

Mr. Wells told of the huge quantities of supplies moved in on this new winter road construction.

By the fall of 1941 the airport at Fort Nelson was ready and then Watson Lake was tackled, supplies moving in by boat and truck portages from Telegraph Creek north. The Liard river was used for this purpose, and it was only navigable for the month of June.

As one strip had already been constructed at Whitehorse, there was no particular difficulty in adding another strip at that point, Mr. Wells continued.

Then, in the spring of 1942, the Alaskan highway was commenced.

Airstrip Important
"The Americans did a wonderful job of getting in machinery and supplies to work north and south, but throughout the highway was secondary in importance to the airports and the airstrips had already been provided by Canada."

He quoted Gen Hogg, first American boss of construction of the highway as stating: "We could never build the highway if the airports were not already there."

"I do not mean to minimize the fine work done by the Americans," continued Mr. Wells, but he pointed out that 90 percent of the camps were Canadian operated and Canadian engineers and companies predominated in the work.

"Canada played a big part in the building of the highway and also paid her share of the cost."

Once the main portion of the highway work was finished, the demand was for airport enlargement, and Mr. Wells gave details of the immensity of this task in certain areas. Secondary airports were also constructed as far north as Snag, and the permanent frost presented difficulties in most places.

"Canada and Canadians can do their part as well as anybody else," concluded the speaker, giving special praise to the airlines' inspectors and the engineers. Canadian engineers are second to none in the world, he believed.

"We have a great Dominion of Canada and we have great men in it. We should be proud of our country and our people."

School Ball Teams Turn Back Princeton

Summerland high school softball teams showed their superiority in no uncertain terms last Saturday afternoon at Penticton when they defeated two Princeton teams in the South Okanagan-Similkameen zone playoffs.

Rutland was to have played in this tournament as a round-robin for the Okanagan championship, but could not make the trip, at the last minute.

As a result, Summerland teams are travelling to Kelowna this afternoon to play Kelowna for the Okanagan titles.

Two handsome cups, both won last year by Princeton, now grace the honors' shelf at the local high school following last Saturday's victory.

Les Howard pitched a masterly game for Summerland in the boys' contest, which was won by a 10-4 score. Summerland took a big

Discussion Centers On New Industries At Trade Board

New industries and their importance, to this district proved a popular topic of discussion at last Thursday's monthly board of trade meeting. Some speakers intimated that Summerland does nothing to encourage new industries to come here and that the municipal council should take a more active interest in the welfare of industries.

T. B. Young, chairman of the new industries committee, started the discussion by introducing the subject of bees.

Bill Barkwill, who was one of the proponents of this district becoming more interested in its industries, advanced the idea that bees could be raised here for rental to fruit growers for pollination purposes.

Mr. Barkwill did not favor the council attitude on power rates, claiming that they are higher than edge early in the game and was never headed. Wally Day's homer was a contributing factor to the Summerland victory.

It was a complete walk-over for Summerland girls, as they waltzed home to victory by a 34-4 count. Joan Howard was the winning pitcher and Evelyn Heichert's four-base clout with the bases loaded was one of the highlights of the big Summerland offensive.

domestic light rates, thus not encouraging industry to come here.

Mr. Harry Beeman, another industrialist here, complained of the lack of housing, as a detriment to new industry being encouraged to come here.

It was decided that the subject of bee rental should be studied by the agricultural committee of the board.

Mr. Young also asked the board to endorse a plan whereby a small secondary industry interested in manufacturing signs for farmers' properties so that they could be easily distinguished by visitors, could be started. He declared that Talmadge McDonald, if given encouragement, would start this business here.

It was decided to write Mr. McDonald urging him to institute this sign writing business here.

Councillor C. E. Bentley entered the discussion to defend the municipal council against some speakers. He pointed out that the lack of interest by the people as a whole had hindered many schemes here. He believed that the people are responsible, not the council alone, for lack of response to some industries.
